

Dr. Lalit Mohan Singh

A Life Dedicated to Medicine, Compassion, and Community Service:

Behind every great achievement lies a story of determination, perseverance, service, and purpose. Dr. Lalit Mohan Singh's life is a remarkable journey shaped by ambition, challenges, dedication, and an unwavering commitment to serving society.

Born in village Tenduni, Bikramganj, in Rohtas district of Bihar. Dr. Singh is the son of the late Nageshwar Singh and the late Raj Muni Devi.

His father, the late Nageshwar Singh, worked for the Indian Railways and retired from service. He was kind, honest, and truthful, and always willing to help others. His generosity and helpful nature were well known not only in Gaya but also in his native village—everyone who had the opportunity to know him respected and remembered him.

Dr. Singh's mother, late Raj Muni Devi, was also a compassionate and helpful woman. She was particularly known for supporting and helping women in need in her community.

Dr. Singh completed his higher secondary education at Bikramganj. Driven by a strong desire to pursue a career in medicine, he moved to Gaya for higher education. He completed his B.Sc. Part I from A. M. College, Gaya, and subsequently pursued his MBBS at Magadh Medical College and Hospital, Gaya, now known as Anugrah Narayan Magadh Medical College and Hospital (ANMMCH), Gayaji.

In 1975, Dr. Singh married Mrs Rama Singh, beginning a partnership built on love, mutual support, and shared values. After his father's passing, while Dr. Singh was posted away from Gaya, his wife became the family's pillar of strength. With love and quiet courage, she held the family together and stood by everyone through a difficult time. Together, they raised a close-knit family of four children, all of whom have grown into successful and well-settled individuals. His family has remained a constant source of strength and inspiration throughout his life.

A Distinguished Career in the Indian Railways:

Dr. Lalit Mohan Singh began his professional career as a Doctor with the Indian Railways in November 1979. His first major posting was at Gaya Railway Hospital, where he served for approximately six years. He was subsequently transferred to Dhanbad, where he served for about a year before being posted to Barwadih, Jharkhand, in Dhanbad Division, Eastern Railway, now known as East Central Railway.

At that time, Barwadih was a highly Naxal-affected and challenging region. Serving as a doctor there demanded not only medical expertise but also extraordinary courage, resilience, and a deep sense of responsibility. Dr. Singh frequently had to provide medical assistance at any hour of the day or night, sometimes in difficult and remote locations. He embraced these challenges and devoted himself wholeheartedly to the health and well-being of railway employees and the local community.

His years in Barwadih became one of the most defining chapters of his career. His dedication, accessibility, and compassionate approach to patient care earned him immense respect from colleagues and the local population. His outstanding service earned him several awards and honors. He received the DRM Award, Dhanbad Division, and GM Award, Eastern Railway. He came to be regarded as one of the finest and most dedicated doctors in the region.

Dr. Singh was later transferred to Mughalsarai, now known as Pt. Deen Dayal Upadhyaya Junction, where he served for approximately five years. He subsequently returned to Gaya, where he assumed the important responsibility of Chief Medical Superintendent (CMS). He continued to serve with distinction until he retired from the Indian Railways in November 2011.

Service Beyond Retirement:

For Dr. Singh, retirement was not the end of his journey in medicine-it was the beginning of a new chapter in community service.

A lifetime member of the Indian Medical Association (IMA), Dr. Singh continued to dedicate his knowledge, experience, and time to society's welfare. He became actively involved with the Indian Red Cross Society, Gaya District, and participated in and organized medical camps for poor, underprivileged, and needy families.

His commitment to organized medical service led him to serve as President of the Indian Medical Association, Gaya District, for two consecutive terms. Along with his dedicated team, he organized healthcare camps in rural and underserved areas, bringing medical consultation and treatment to communities that often-had limited access to healthcare.

He later moved to Patna, where he became Vice President of the IMA Bihar State Branch. For nearly 10–11 years, he remained actively engaged as VP of the IMA Bihar State Branch in professional and community welfare activities. Under his leadership, and with the support of his team, he organized numerous blood donation camps, immunization drives, health check-up camps, and medical outreach programs in villages, remote areas, and among communities in need.

He also serves as a Director of Rama InfraTel Pvt. Ltd., contributing to the company’s strategic direction and overall growth.

His philosophy has always been simple yet profound: medicine is not merely a profession; it is a responsibility toward humanity.

His years of dedicated service, leadership, and contribution to the medical profession were recognized when he was elected President of the IMA Bihar State Branch in February 2026. This achievement represents not only a milestone in his distinguished professional career but also a testament to the trust and respect he has earned from the medical fraternity.

A Legacy of Compassion and Service:

Throughout his life, Dr. Lalit Mohan Singh has remained guided by three enduring principles: medicine, compassion, and service to society. Whether serving patients in a challenging railway hospital, working in a Naxal-affected region, leading medical initiatives, organizing blood donation drives, or bringing healthcare to rural communities, he has consistently placed others' needs at the heart of his work.

Dr. Singh is deeply proud and honored to be associated with the Babu Kuwar Singh Education Fund as a Donor & Executive member, an organization whose vision of serving society through education and social welfare resonates strongly with his own lifelong values. Through his association with the Fund, he continues to support empowering individuals and contributing to the betterment of society.

From a young student in Bikramganj to a respected physician, medical leader, and community servant, Dr. Lalit Mohan Singh's life is a story of perseverance, courage, humility, and selfless service. His journey continues to inspire those around him and reminds us that the greatest legacy one can leave behind is a life devoted to helping others.
